

Fitness Centers now REQUIRED to Have Emergency Panic Systems for Liability Reasons

Many states are now requiring Fitness Centers to install an emergency panic system to call for help in the event of an injury. Check your local insurance requirements.

Dec. 14, 2008 - PRLog -- Assistive Technology Services wants to help you be compliant with regulations and provide safety and security for your customers.

Recent liability laws in many states such as California also require that all health clubs and fitness centers install a Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) since June of 2007.

Technology plays a large role in making staffed or non-staffed access a reality. Beyond security cameras, owners of gyms concerned about liability require members to wear emergency response necklaces in case an injury is suffered, and "panic buttons" are sometimes also installed around the facility.

This is a serious liability situation and you should consult with your insurance agent for details.

Assistive Technology Services strives to provide economical solutions to these needs.

We offer a very inexpensive solution to this need that has been used at hundreds of Health Clubs around the nation.

Our alert system is totally wireless and has NO MONTHLY USAGE FEE.

We Offer Wireless Pendants, Watches and Panic Buttons for use with the system.

Starting at only $69.99
