

Bring It On 2009 Workshop: Strategy and Hands-On Implementation for Recovery

By Akdia, Inc.

Dated: Dec 17, 2008

Join the Cohesive team on January 24, 2009 for the Bring It On 2009 Workshop, a financial workshop to help you create a plan with clear direction to move your financial future forward.

Karla Dennis, COHESIVE's president and founder, will team with Jim and Lorraine Conaway to help you find solutions to your financial issues, such as why your business is no longer turning a profit, how to manage real estate that is upside down in value, how to collect as a landlord with tenants not paying rent, what to do with your 401K, whether you will have enough money for retirement and more.

Bring It On 2009 is a strategic workshop that will provide information and tools to turn things around. Instead of waiting and wondering when the economy will recover before you take action, this workshop will address how to start financial recovery now. The Cohesive team will present specific tactics, steps and strategies to implement and will help develop a customized plan with clear direction on how to move forward. The workshop's ultimate objective is to teach how to build or rebuild wealth.

Dennis, Conaway and Conaway bring almost 56 years of combined experience to the workshop. "As entrepreneurs, financial strategists and tax strategists, we're very well equipped to assist you in understanding the tactics, the strategies, the steps that it takes to recover in this economy, to make the decisions appropriately, to have a direction, to plan and build your wealth, and to do so in the most efficient possible manner," Jim Conaway said.

With the state of the economy and the instability of the stock market, there has never been a better time to make some healthy, strategic decisions to keep financial dreams strong. Sign up to attend at www.cohesivetax.com
