Satellite TV on PC program, Satellite Soft, was one of the very first TV on PC programs available online that offered software to find and show free satellite TV programs and channels on your PC.

This program was completely updated for 2007. It offers three different levels of cost and channels available: Pro Edition, 2800 channels; Elite Edition v3, 3100 channels; and Titanium Edition, 4000 channels. All of the editions offer 1000's of radio stations.

The Satellite TV on PC program is fast and easy to download, learn to use and operate. However, the interface to find and choose channels could be improved. This software offers worldwide television channels that you can view on your pc or laptop. Although the program does offer a "top rated" channels list, you will have to search through the various channels by country to find a particular program or channel you may wish to watch if it is not on the "top rated" channel.

This software program works with all Windows OS versions, and you do not need any extra hardware, cables or special "cards" to view satellite tv on your pc.

Many people choose to purchase the Satellite TV on PC program over other similar programs because the payment processor is secured through Clickbank. This gives them confidence in the money back guarantee, if not satisfied.

In summary, the Satellite TV on PC – Satellite Soft program may be the TV on PC software program you wish to use if you would like to choose from over 4000+ worldwide satellite TV channels to watch on your PC. You may also prefer to buy this particular software for TV on PC since payment for the program is through the secured payment processor, Clickbank and offers a money back guarantee.
