Author, Dorothy Barron of "Slingshot Stones when United States Congress has lost control and American Courts are out of control" writes to President(Elect) Obama

Greetings President Obama,

You hold a unique and special position that few have, or will ever hold. Most of us can only image the vicissitudes and burdens one encounters as President of the United States of America. I would like to offer four points for you to consider, if I may.

- Avoid dealing with and defending the trivial. Such causes one to lose focus of crucial and critical issues, doubt one's own judgment and appear inept.

It is the media's job to fish, but one does not have to swallow the bait.

- The economic stability that sustains and upholds this nation does not rest with the median income earners in this nation any longer. The focus must shift from the "middle class" and encompass all Americans.

- When looking for solutions to problems, you can often find them among those actively engaged, involved and/or directly impacted by the problem- Go directly to the people for solutions and answers to our nation's problems.

- You head the Executive Branch of the United States Government with the oversight of many Administrative Agencies. Mr. President, it is crucial that an extensive and thorough review of those Administrative Agencies and administrators be conducted, chiefly, those headed by cabinet appointed secretaries.

Mr. President, Happy New Year to you and your family.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Dorothy Barron, author
