

Jean Pfeiffer Joins CarbonCopyPRO

By Jean Pfeiffer

Dated: Jan 20, 2009

Jean Pfeiffer, an internet entrepreneur and online network marketer, has announced her new affiliation with CarbonCopyPRO, the marketing arm for Wealth Masters International (WMI).

The retiree is confident about turning her golden years into debt free and productive ones.

Jean Pfeiffer, an internet entrepreneur and online network marketer, has announced her new affiliation with CarbonCopyPRO, the marketing arm for Wealth Masters International (WMI). Pfeiffer, a retiree, was excited about her new venture. "I have more years behind me than ahead of me," said Pfeiffer, smiling. "I want those years to be debt free and productive years. Retirement is okay, but I really need something to keep me busy."

Wealth Masters International features a combination of world class education, services, and strategies along with proven consultants that have extensive, successful track records in their respective fields, who come together to help people effectively manage personal finances. The company's mission is to create success and wealth in others one person at a time. The firm also offers a very lucrative network marketing opportunity for its consultants that provides the ability to generate an extraordinary income while helping people to improve their financial situation. The company was founded by Kip Herriage and Karl Bessey, and was incorporated in January of 2005.

CarbonCopyPRO is the marketing arm of WMI, and was founded by internet marketing legend and dynamically successful online entrepreneur Jay Kubassek to automate the lead generation process for WMI consultants. The firm handles back office tasks such as website development and management, copywriting and content development, publicity and public relations, as well as call center operations, thereby freeing the consultant to focus on other, higher value activities such as building relationships and closing sales. The resulting stream of high quality, qualified leads helps WMI consultants to jump start their business and to realize explosive growth over time.

The short learning curve and tremendous potential were what attracted Pfeiffer to the opportunity. "I don't know very much about marketing on the internet," she said. "And quite frankly, I don't have all that much time to learn about it. But I also don't want to go through my retirement constantly worrying about money—about paying the bills and making ends meet. My new career and the relationship with CarbonCopyPRO solve those problems."

Kubassek has vowed to create 100 new millionaires by 2012, and it seems like he's on track to do it. Pfeiffer is pleased to be involved with the challenge. "Becoming a millionaire was the farthest thing from my mind," she said. "But I honestly believe that it's now within my grasp!"

###

Jean Pfeiffer is a business coach and mentor based out Lake Placid, FL, that assists serious entrepreneurs in building a profitable online business with multiple incomes streams.

To contact Jean , visit:

<http://www.www.GSSD-INC.COM>

Category Internet Entrepreneur, Online Network Marketer
Tags internet entrepreneur, carboncopypro, Marketing, wealth masters international
Email Click to email author
Country United States