

What Do Men Really Want For Valentines Day?

By Melinda Maximova, CEO Perfect Search

Dated: Jan 23, 2009

Valentines Day is a woman's holiday. Men don't want flowers or presents or chocolates. They want their woman to follow the 7 Fs For Keeping Your Man

According to Men's Health magazine as reported on Opra.com, San Jose was listed as the #1 best city in America to meet single men over 35,

Top 20 Cities to Find Single Men: www.oprah.com/article/oprahshow/tows_past_20070427_b

Out of the top 20 US cities, San Francisco was rated #5 and Fremont, #6. So why do so many Bay Area women complain about finding and keeping a great guy? Melinda Maximova, VIP matchmaker with Perfect Search, knows what women are doing wrong. Her matchmaking company not only helps women find their perfect guy, but her 7 Fs will help women keep him.

Maximova's clients are men—high-powered and attractive men looking for their perfect match. This has given her an insider's view of what men want, how they think and what makes them run for the hills. Having played Cupid for many successful marriages, and having conducted thousands of intimate interviews with men, Maximova comes from a qualified place in doling out her dating and relationship advice to women. Author of "Power Shift: Rescue Dating for Women", Maximova created a simple list for women to use as a guideline for keeping a relationship healthy, happy and exciting. "After posting the list on Youtube", Maximova laughs, "I received 10 marriage proposals!" This is really what men want and according to Maximova, if women follow the 7 Fs they will not only snag a guy, but also be able to keep him. And ...Maximova is not only the Perfect Search president, but also a recipient of success!

Practicing what she preaches, she is getting married to a former client with whom she began dating 3 years ago. They are getting married this Valentines Day. Her only goal now is to encourage all the women in her pool to use the 7 Fs in their relationships to make this, not only the best Valentines Day ever, but the best relationship forever.

The 7 Fs For Keeping Your Man

- 1 Fun: Be Fun. Youth equates fun. That is why men are attracted to youth
2. Friend: Be his friend. Do things with him that he enjoys. Be a good listener and companion
3. Fascinate: Be fascinating. Have outside interests so that you don't become bored, or boring.
4. Forgive: Forgive each other for mistakes. We all make mistakes. Don't hold a grudge or give the silent treatment.
5. Faithful: Be Faithful. He may want others to want you, but he doesn't want them to have you behind his back.
6. Fit: Stay fit. Men are visual and men want hot. It doesn't mean that big isn't beautiful, but if you weren't big when he fell in love with you don't get big later.
7. The Most Famous "F" Of All: You have to do that one all the time!
