Toronto, Canada, -- Today, Kanetix® (www.kanetix.ca), Canada's shopping marketplace for insurance quotes and mortgage rates, announced an expanded set of courtesy insurance expiry reminders to help people looking to save money on their insurance premiums. By subscribing to this service, insurance consumers will be reminded that the time to ensure they are getting the best insurance price is near.

"Kanetix.ca provides an easy-to-use reminder service that helps consumers find the best insurance rates and save money," says George Small, Co-founder of Kanetix Ltd. "The service previously offered auto, home, and motorcycle insurance reminders, but has been upgraded to allow a person to sign up for reminders for their antique auto, RV and trailer, commercial property, and even annual travel insurance policies as well."

A Kanetix insurance shopper can sign up to receive a reminder for an auto insurance policy, home, motorcycle, antique auto, RV & trailer, commercial property, or annual travel insurance policy. The subscriber will get a note the month before the policy expires and a note in the month that the policy expires, ensuring the subscriber has plenty of time to find the best price before renewing. The best part is that it's free. All a person needs is an email address to sign up for one or multiple reminders.

"Everyone wants to save their money, especially now," explains Mr. Small, "Kanetix has always been committed to helping consumers save money, and these new renewal reminders are just another way to go about achieving this goal."
