

Winnipeg's Only Real Estate Podcast is now Online!

By Bo Kauffmann

Dated: Feb 24, 2009

Two important things to know about Real Estate: It is local... and it is always changing! Get the information that matters to YOU, whether you are the buyer or the seller. Winnipegs first Podcast with market updates, tips and techniques and more..

Bo Kauffmann, an award-winning Realtor with Remax Performance Realty is the first Realtor in Winnipeg to present a Podcast, featuring regular episodes filled with real estate related information, tips and market updates.

Available on I-Tunes and other podcatching services, this service endeavours to provide home buyers and sellers with the most recent, relevant and accurate information about local real estate issues.

Whereas the national media usually reports on the state and condition of markets in Toronto, Calgary and even the US, Real Estate is a local issue. Winnipeggers need to know accurate information and updates about local conditions, to help them in their most important buying and selling decisions. For over 100 years, home owners and buyers have to turned to Realtors for this information.

Episodes range in length from about 5 minutes, up to 20 minutes. They will feature segments of general information, such as 'Financing a Home', 'Condominium Laws and Regulations', 'Marketing Your Home' and many others. Other segments include a current market update and featured properties for sale.

To hear the latest episodes, go to <http://www.rivercitypodcast.com> . You can listen on your computer, or download the episodes to an mp3 player, such as an I-pod or other device.

There is no charge for this service, and there is even a way to subscribe so that listeners are notified when a new episode is aired.

For a direct link, you can also catch it from our website at <http://www.winnipeghomefinder.com>
