GiGi Belts is proud to announce a fashion breakthrough for your well-dressed baby.

There's no shortage of adorable fashions for babies in today's marketplace. No matter what your style, you can find the perfect look for your baby- no matter what the occasion. The problem comes down to accessories. Trying to find easy-to-use, appropriate accessories to finish off your baby's best look can be difficult at best. GiGi Belts understands you want to show off your bundle of joy and has created a new twist on an old standby- the belt.

One of the most important features of a baby's wardrobe has to be convenience. Most parents won't even consider adding anything to their infant's outfit that increases changing time. GiGi Belts changes everything. You can have the fun and color of a belt without having to fumble with latches, buckles or fasteners. The GiGi Belt is a unique belt design, with a single snap that adds the finishing touch to your baby's outfit- without adding more work to your routine. In fact, the design is so unique there is a design patent pending on it.

Infant and toddlers sized pants are usually designed with belt loops and they can look incomplete if you don't use one. The problem is you need an extra hand to fasten a typical belt buckle and with one hand holding onto the baby, there just aren't enough to go around. Solve this problem instantly with a single snap and you never need to worry about buckles again.

GiGi Belts are available at several online boutiques as well as in physical stores in both Miami, FL and Encinitas, CA. Wholesale discounts are available to retailers.

Barbara Fernandez Bussa, the creator of GiGi Belts, explains why she designed this baby accessory, "GiGi Belts was born because I bought my then 6 week old daughter her first pair of jeans and a onesie. Remembering how bare the waist line looks with that kind of outfit when I dressed my son 9 years prior and how inconvenient it was to have a belt during diaper changes, I felt a need to change that." There are designers creating baby fashions, but GiGi Belts are the only ones creating this unique one-handed snap.
