Dated: Mar 04, 2009

First truly eco-friendly photo album available

GP Albums is excited about the launch of their new eco-friendly Green Photo Album™. Feedback was highly favorable at the Imaging USA and WPPI photographic industry tradeshow earlier this year, where proto-types of The Green Photo Album™ were introduced to the industry. As of March 1, production has begun on this important new album line.

The Green Photo Album™ is the first and only 100% recycled content photo album available in the photographic industry. Album pages are made from 100% post consumer content and are processed chlorine free, acid free and lignin free. The pages are made with electricity generated from windmills, no kidding!

This album is not only easy on the environment, it is easy to use. The Green Photo Album™ is the newest addition to GP's self-mount product line, featuring repositionable adhesive that becomes permanent within 2-3 days.

The Green Photo Album™ covers are available in vibrant organic cotton and natural hemp cover materials. Covers are available plain or with a 4x4 cameo on sizes 8x8 and larger. Adhesives are all natural as well. This album is handcrafted in the USA (minimal carbon footprint). It is available in 12 sizes and three standard capacities.

GP Albums is committed to providing professional photographers with the best high quality albums and folios, value added services and studio workflow solutions. GP Albums continues to offer variety and flexibility allowing photographers to design the perfect product that will last a lifetime. As a manufacturer, GP Albums also has the ability to create custom photo packaging products upon request. For more information, please visit us at www.gpalbums.com or call 800.888.1934.
