Being on the first page of Google – right where potential customers search for exactly what you are offering without paying a fortune...or even without paying anything at all! Does that sound too good to be true?

Never the less this is exactly what an online Malaga based business are promising.

WildFire is the marketing section of fincafantastica.biz

WildFire specialize in online marketing strategies which help owners of small to medium-sized businesses – with or without websites to promote their business online and get better results without spending a fortune on advertising.

Three years of intensive study and research in online marketing has crystallized into what the company has named the WildFire Marketing Package. According to the WildFire team the package will accomplish 3 things;

- 1: it will get anything you want on the first page of Google
- 2: it will produce an e-book or digital brochure about you or your product
- 3: it will provide you with your own Mini-Advertising-Network and a manual that shows you step-by-step how to maintain the accomplished position on google and other search engines.

This means that for those that goes for the “do-it-yourself-model - online advertising will be free after the first initial WildFire Marketing Package!

For those who will rather concentrate on their business than on advertising – a maintenance package is available.

A local success was Restaurant El Quinto Pino on Torrox Costa who didn't have a website, but wanted an online presence so they could be found when potential clients were looking for fine dining or simple “eating out in Torrox”.

The WildFire-Team from Finca Fantastica Biz proved without any reasonable doubt, that you don't need a website to be noticed online. Only three weeks into the "WildFire Marketing Package" the restaurant had 4 out of the 5 first placements on Google...and they had their phone number "smack - Bang - in your face" ready to be called for reservations. So you don't necessarily need a website to be noticed online - you just need your potential customers to find you when they search for whatever it is you are offering.

As for doing it for totally nothing?

It can be done! “Get Noticed Online” an e-book from Edward Kirwan and the WildFire team has just been launched. Get Noticed Online can be downloaded for free: <http://fincafantastica.biz/wild-fire.html> and it gives you a broader picture of how the Wild Fire techniques work and what they can do to get anything you want noticed online.
