

Bakery Equipment to be sold by auction

Over 200 lots of bakery equipment and plant used at a former multinational food manufacturer in Nottingham is to be sold in an online auction conducted by Pro Auction Limited.

March 30, 2009 - PRLog -- Several interesting lots will go under the hammer, which will appeal to a wide range of craft and plant bakeries alike.

The sale will include a state of the art APV travelling oven, dividers, mixers, moulders and depositors along with complete savoury pie manufacturing and packing equipment. In addition to the equipment, the auctioneers will also offer Tom Chandley Ovens, retarder provers, Steriflow retorts, Rondo pastry brakes and confectionery equipment at the plant. According to market research group Plimsoll, smaller bakery companies are increasing sales at three times the rate of larger competitors, delivering profitability that is four times as high. Given the amount of used food machinery available from this bakery sale,

Pro Auction are expecting a good attendance by these up and coming bakery companies. In addition to the bespoke bakery equipment, a number of lots will appeal to the food manufacturing industry generally and will include items such as a Risco mixers, Multivac thermoforming machines, metal detection, Rose Foregrove flow wrapping machine, digital scales, insectocutors, Rational combination ovens, Falcon Bratt pan, vacuum packing machines, metal detectors, Mono bake off ovens, Endoline carton sealer, table top vacuum packers, sinks and hand wash basins, racks and trolleys, complete refrigeration packs, fork lifts and hand pallet trucks.

The sale will be performed on line via www.bidspotter.com and final offers are to be submitted by the 22nd April 2009. Bidders can view the equipment live during open viewing from the 13th April until 16th April between 08.30 and 4.00pm, or by arrangement with the auctioneers.
