Agilis Software today announced Small Business Package pricing for startups and small businesses for both Agilis's EasyLicenser License Manager and Orion Network Licensing Platform, as well as for Agilis's Acropolis On-demand Managed Licensing Service.

The Small Business Packages enable software vendors having limited revenues or funding to cut their initial licensing costs by over 50% compared with standard pricing, so they don't have to compromise on their choice of licensing solution based on cost alone. Small software vendors do need to conserve their cash in the short term, and at the same time position for long-term growth with a secure, comprehensive and flexible licensing system. Instead of building a budget licensing tool into their products as a cost-saving measure and then having to rip it out later and upgrade all their customers, small software vendors can now afford to build their business from the start with the full range of capabilities of Agilis's EasyLicenser License Manager or Orion Network Licensing Platform, and optionally leverage Agilis' Acropolis hosted licensing solution for zero-infrastructure license administration.

Dominc Haigh, VP of Agilis, commented: "The Small Business Package pricing allows smaller vendors to protect their products and revenues with the same licensing solutions trusted today by Fair Isaac, Harris, the US Navy, Counterpath, Mercury Computer Systems, SDL Tridion and hundreds of other software vendors, large and small, worldwide".

EasyLicenser and Orion support a wide range of license models, including trial licensing, subscription licensing, node-locked licensing, automated product activation, feature-based licensing, floating licensing, named-user licensing, usage-based licensing and more, for applications written in multi-platform Java, C/C++ on 32/64 bit Windows, Linux, Solaris and Mac OS X, or .NET.

Acropolis allows vendors of Orion-protected applications to eliminate infrastructure costs and reduce operations costs.

The Agilis Small Business Packages are a limited-time offer available to qualifying startups, small companies and business units only. Restrictions do apply. For further details please visit: www.agilis-sw.com, or call +1 408-404-8480 x611.
