Toronto, ON -- Today getinsurancequotes.ca, a service that connects car insurance shoppers with local brokers, announced their expansion into Alberta. Helping Alberta car insurance shoppers in their quest to save money on their insurance premiums, the getinsurancequotes.ca service introduces drivers to local Alberta auto insurance brokers who compete for their business.

Through getinsurancequotes.ca, shoppers enter their information, just once, into a secure online questionnaire at which point they are then 'matched' with brokers that have joined the getinsurancequotes.ca network. The broker then prepares their best auto insurance quote and presents it to the shopper.

It's a win-win situation for both the shopper and the broker. For the shopper, it's a fast and easy way to get in touch with many brokers instead of calling countless companies; this will save the shopper a lot of time. Also, because the brokers are looking to compete and grow their business, the shopper knows this person is going to do their best to provide them a highly competitive rate.
