

Go Green Sangha Radio Celebrates Earth Day with Green Generation Member Ken Yamaguchi-Clark

By Ananda Leeke

Dated: Apr 10, 2009

Author/Yoga Teacher/ Green Living Coach Ananda Leeke Pays Tribute to Green Living Leader Ken Yamaguchi-Clark, President and CEO of Dharma Farma Productions

Washington, DC - Author/Yoga Teacher/Green Living Coach Ananda Kiamsha Madelyn Leeke will interview Ken Yamaguchi-Clark, a dynamic man of Mother Earth, Green Generation member, and President/CEO of Dharma Farma Productions, on Sunday, April 12 from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. (EST) on Go Green Sangha Radio. Through his Washington, DC-based company, Dharma Farma Productions, Yamaguchi-Clark shares his gifts as a writer, meditation/mindfulness/movement teacher, bodyworker, green living entrepreneur, and social permaculture consultant. Yamaguchi-Clark is also a performance artist and dancer. Visit <http://www.talkshoe.com/tc/21325> to listen to the show. Listeners will have an opportunity to participate in a question and answer period.

The April 12th episode will also honor Earth Day. The 2009 theme is "Green Generation Campaign." The Green Generation Campaign is a two-year initiative that will end with the 40th anniversary of Earth Day in 2010. Its core principles include:

- a carbon-free future based on renewable energy that will end our common dependency on fossil fuels, including coal.
- an individual's commitment to responsible, sustainable consumption.
- creation of a new green economy that lifts people out of poverty by creating millions of quality green jobs and transforms the global education system into a green one.

Yamaguchi-Clark will serve as Social Permaculture Project Mentor for OLD CITY green's Grand Opening Celebration and Peace Garden Dedication on Saturday April 11 at 12 noon. Leeke will participate as a Green Media Project Mentor and read her poem, "Let America Be Green America Green" at the event. OLD CITY green, an open air garden center and farmers' market, is located at 902 N Street, NW, Washington, DC. OLD CITY green's mission is to invite nature back into the city by supporting local landscapers with market value product and by providing the Shaw community and D.C. at large with plants, garden supplies, training and opportunities to increase awareness of and appreciation for our urban garden. OLD CITY green was founded by Frank Asher. To learn more, please visit <http://www.oldcitygreen.com> or contact 202.412.7575.
