Virtualize Your Way to Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery!

Join Blue LAN Group (BLG) and SteelEye Technology and learn how we are helping businesses leverage the latest in virtualization technology and data replication to produce cost effective disaster recovery and business continuity solutions. Conversations around server virtualization seem to focus on consolidation, easier management, and facilitation of older applications and operating systems on newer platforms. However, there are some exciting business continuity solutions that are empowered through server virtualization.

By combining virtual technology with SteelEye's suite of data replication technology you can...

- Break through the classic physical limitations when considering 'many to one' availability configurations.
- Enable more cost-effective disaster recovery by reducing backup site infrastructure and the need for expensive storage based replication.
- Continuously protect data with near zero Recovery Time Objectives (RTO) and low Recovery Time Objectives (RPO).
