R-Tech Welding Equipment Ltd. have announced sponsorship of Dave Gouder, The Worlds Strongest Man Under 17 stone through a community based, Lottery funded initiative called the Regeneration Factory.

They have chosen R-Tech Welding Equipment to supply them with a selection of MIG Welders, TIG Welders and Plasma Cutters. The project aims to teach skills to deprived youngsters, in particular, some of their recent projects have involved heavy manufacturing and turning ideas into reality.

The Regeneration Factory works in some of the most deprived communities in the UK By talking to the real people who face the challenging issues everyday in those communities The Regeneration Factory manufacture their ideas into real assets improving quality of life choices for families, children and individuals.

The community will over the next six months have built and designed a new 'wild' play zone for children with disabilities, a community healthy living exercise trail, a new community sports pavilion, youth pod and outdoor boxing and mobile sports cage. They are making it happen and have put young people at the frontline for its regeneration. No major grants have been secured but instead the community have generated their own funding through commissioned contracts and reinvested that income into developing their own ideas.
