

Center for Chiropractic & Wellness Announces Animal Chiropractic Services

By MMI Associates, Inc.

Dated: May 21, 2009

Friday Afternoon Appointments Available For Horses And Canines

RALEIGH, N.C. – Dr. Darcy Ward and Dr. Jennifer Greenfield, the doctors of chiropractic at Center for Chiropractic & Wellness (www.carolinachirowellness.com), a North Raleigh chiropractic center, have announced that the firm is offering animal chiropractic services Friday afternoons for horses and canines. Ward received a bachelor of arts in Horsemanship from Virginia Intermont College and a doctorate in Chiropractic from Logan College of Chiropractic. In 2008 she was certified by the International Veterinary Chiropractic Association as an animal chiropractor. Ward's goals are to help animals with musculoskeletal conditions and aide them in a quick rehabilitation. Animal chiropractic treatment does not replace veterinary medicine, but can provide additional means of diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. Darcy Ward is co-founder of Center for Chiropractic & Wellness, a north Raleigh chiropractic center offering health and wellness services including chiropractic, myofascial release, acupuncture, allergy elimination technique, hormone assessment, Tuina/Chinese massage, Applied Kinesiology, neuro-emotional technique and reflexology. For more information, call (919) 845-3280 or visit their Web site at www.carolinachirowellness.com.

Related Links:

www.carolinachirowellness.com

www.mmimarketing.com

News Facts:

- Dr. Darcy Ward and Dr. Jennifer Greenfield, the doctors of chiropractic at Center for Chiropractic & Wellness (www.carolinachirowellness.com), a North Raleigh chiropractic center, have announced that the firm is offering animal chiropractic services Friday afternoons for horses and canines.
- Ward received a bachelor of arts in Horsemanship from Virginia Intermont College and a doctorate in Chiropractic from Logan College of Chiropractic.
- In 2008 she was certified by the International Veterinary Chiropractic Association as an animal chiropractor.
- Ward's goals are to help animals with musculoskeletal conditions and aide them in a quick rehabilitation.
- Animal chiropractic treatment does not replace veterinary medicine, but can provide additional means of diagnosis and treatment.
- Dr. Darcy Ward is co-founder of Center for Chiropractic & Wellness, a north Raleigh chiropractic center offering health and wellness services including chiropractic, myofascial release, acupuncture, allergy elimination technique, hormone assessment, Tuina/Chinese massage, Applied Kinesiology, neuro-emotional technique and reflexology.
- For more information, call (919) 845-3280 or visit their Web site at www.carolinachirowellness.com.

Quotes:

"I am excited to offer animal chiropractic services to horses and dogs," said Ward. "Animals can benefit greatly from chiropractic services and I hope to demonstrate that through our services."

About Center for Chiropractic & Wellness:

Center for Chiropractic & Wellness was founded by Dr. Darcy Ward and Dr. Jennifer Greenfield in 2007, and offers health and wellness services including chiropractic, myofascial release, acupuncture, allergy elimination technique, hormone assessment, Tuina/Chinese massage, Applied Kinesiology, neuro-emotional technique and reflexology. The facility is located on The American Institute of Healthcare & Fitness (AIHF) campus at 8300 Health Park in Raleigh. For more information or to arrange an appointment, please call (919) 845-3280 or visit www.carolinachirowellness.com.

About Darcy M. Ward, D.C.:

Darcy M. Ward, doctor of chiropractic, uses a wide range of treatment techniques including Diversified, Applied Kinesiology, Activator and Logan Basic, and emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach to treatment and rehabilitation. She specializes in myofascial diagnosis and has successfully treated difficult cases including frozen shoulder, sciatica, failed back or carpal tunnel surgeries, Bell's Palsy, TMJ and headaches. Dr. Ward received a doctorate in Chiropractic from Logan College of Chiropractic and spent six years at the Colonias Chiropractic Center in Taos, New Mexico. She earned a bachelor of arts in Horsemanship from Virginia Intermont College.

Keywords:

Center for Chiropractic & Wellness, Dr. Darcy Ward, Dr. Jennifer Greenfield, health center, wellness center, North Raleigh, chiropractic, meditative options, reflexation, exercise physiology, animal chiropractic, canine and horse chiropractics

Patty Briguglio
MMI Associates, Inc.
(919) 233-6600
patty@mmimarketing.com
PR Firms Raleigh, NC

(end)

###

MMI Associates, Inc.
Patty Briguglio
(919) 233-6600
(919) 233-0300 (fax)
onlinenews@mmimarketing.com
www.mmimarketing.com

Category	Business, Health
Email	Click to email author
Country	United States