International sculptor and jewelry designer, Petra Azar, donates a 14K diamond pendant, valued at $9,950, at the 2009 Facets of Hope annual dinner held in Las Vegas NV, hosted by Jewelers for Children, the jewelry industry's charity organization.

Studio Petra Azar Celebrates Success at Facets of Hope Dinner

Las Vegas, Nevada - Studio Petra Azar was a big hit at the Facets of Hope Dinner, Sunday, May 31, 2009 at the Venetian Hotel in Las Vegas. Jewelers for Children is a monumental focus for Petra Azar, who was joined by celebrated actress, Jane Seymour during the event.

Many charity partners were involved in the effort, where Studio Petra Azar donated magnificent United Heart pendants – symbolizing her vision of unity, love and the magnetism that brings all people together.

Petra Azar donated a 14k solid gold diamond pavé pendant, valued at $9,950.00. Also donated by her team were more than 100 sterling silver pendants valued at $185.00 each. All proceeds benefit the Jewelers for Children charities.

These notable recipients include Make-A-Wish Foundation®, National CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) Association, Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation, St. Jude Research Hospital®, Santa-America Fund, Autism Speaks, Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation and a new partnership to help children in South Africa.

The cocktail party began at 6:15pm and the in-depth program began at 7:45 with a sumptuous dinner served at 8:30pm where the many champions for children socialized amidst a theme of cooperation and generosity.

Studio Petra Azar combines the beauty, symbolism and artistry of unique, magnetic-clasping jewelry with the consciousness that addresses the needs of children through many worthwhile causes. <http://studiopetraazar.com/>
