

Brandon Rogers Los Angeles record release show at Hotel Café on June 13th

By Authentik Artists

Dated: Jun 04, 2009

Former American Idol season 6 finalist releases his new full length album online and announces record release show to celebrate new material with his friends, fans and musical contemporaries.

Brandon Rogers recently released his new album "Automatic" through Authentik Artists on May 26th. The 11 song LP features the critically acclaimed ballad "Broken", "Joy" and 9 other new tracks recorded recently in Los Angeles, CA. The former American Idol contestant and Idol Tonight co-host will be having his record release show and performance at The Hotel Café in Hollywood on June 13th.

Brandon also recently wrapped his first year as a co-host on TV Guide Network's hit program "Idol Tonight", a cable television show dedicated to everything American Idol. Brandon joined hosts Justin Guarini and Kimberly Caldwell on the show until the hugely publicized Season Finale this past month.

About Authentik Artists

Authentik Artists is a multi-faceted music company based in Los Angeles, CA whose primary focus is the development of emerging artist talent using digital mediums. Authentik believes in the culture of independent music and empowers its diverse roster of clients to maximize their career potential through entrepreneurial ideology and connection with an audience. Authentik Artists is not a record label or management company, but rather a hybrid content company that provides essential functions that independent artists need to move their careers forward without encumbering them with the long-term commitments typically associated with record deals.

At a time when music industry models of the past are failing, we devise and implement strategies for our artists that coincide with their needs and goals. We can provide a completely independent alternative to record labels, or act as a "stepping stone" to the majors. Our unique approach has caught the attention of A&R execs and music supervisors as a source for high quality artists in the "new model" music business.
