

The 4-1-1 on Science Fiction Writer Stephanie Osborn

By Stephanie Osborn

Dated: Jun 04, 2009

Stephanie Osborn has hit the science fiction scene in a big way, with her first two novels, Burnout: The mystery of Space Shuttle STS-281, and The Y Factor, coauthored with Darrell Bain. What's happening with her and her books?

Upcoming author events:

*Hypericon 5/DeepSouthCon, Nashville, TN 5-7 June 2009

*Red River Writers Live BlogTalkRadio, Wednesday, June 24th at noon CDT Phone-in 646-595-4478

*Florence-Lauderdale AL Public Library, 12-2:00pm, Saturday, 27 Jun 09

*LibertyCon, Chattanooga, TN 10-12 July 2009

What people are saying about Burnout:

"Hard-edged SF that wraps a compelling mystery around "this is the real thing" space science. BURNOUT is tight, tense, and gripping -- Osborn tells a damn good story, and tells it well."

~ Holly Lisle, author of The Ruby Key: Moon & Sun I.

"Burnout is a compelling, impossible to put down, first novel in the class of Skylark of Space or Lifeline." ... It may perhaps be the most realistic view ever published in fiction about what happens behind the scenes at NASA."

~ Jim Woosley, Ph.D. physicist and Heinlein essayist

"...Ms. Osborn's experience as a seasoned veteran of the space program, as well as her love for astronomy and geology, showed through clearly in numerous portions of this novel. I opened the cover of Burnout in the morning and couldn't put it down! This intriguing maze of plot twists, danger, intrigue and excitement would make an excellent movie. Six stars to this outstanding new writer."

~Ann B. Keller, author of Crenellations: A Collection of Poetry and Vortex of Revelation

"...a real page-turner. Stephanie is a good writer and she is able to draw from her experience working on the shuttle program in her past life. It is a great read and recommended. I am always excited to discover a new author and I will be following her writing career for sure."

~jkOnTheRun/ Mobile Tech Manor

"...intriguing and fun. You should give it a read. I read it twice."

~Travis "Doc" Taylor, author of Tau Ceti Agenda

Recent ebook release makes bestseller list:

The Y Factor by Darrell Bain & Stephanie Osborn recently hit Number One on Fictionwise's SF Best-Seller List and has remained in the top ten for several weeks.

###

Stephanie Osborn is a former payload flight controller, a veteran of 20+ years of working in the civilian & military space defense programs. She holds degrees in 4 sciences & writes sci-fi mysteries based on her knowledge, experience, and travels.

Category Books, Literature, Entertainment

Tags stephanie osborn, burnout, the y factor, bestseller, events, science fiction, jkontherun, mobiletechmanor, travis taylor

Email Click to email author

State/Province Alabama

Country United States