Abolt Process Service of San Diego, CA announces that owner Cheyanne Abolt was nominated and accepted to the National Association of Professional Women.

San Diego, CA, Abolt Process Service (www.AboltProcessService.com) a nationwide process serving company based in San Diego, today announced that owner Cheyanne Abolt was nominated and accepted to the National Association of Professional Women.

The NAPW is an exclusive American association of female executives, professionals, and entrepreneurs. It highlights and profiles the country's most accomplished professional women in over 200 industries and professions. The organization counts members from Harvard, Boston University, and the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) among its ranks.

NAPW provides its members with a wealth of powerful resources and services. They provide an interaction forum, access to seminars, webinars, podcasts, and keynote speakers.

As a growing organization, Abolt Process Service relies on Cheyanne Abolt's depth of knowledge. Cheyanne sees this new affiliation as an opportunity to expand her skill set and enrich the resources she has at her fingertips. Over time, these skills will shape the policies and procedures which make Abolt Process Service's long term vision a reality.

About The NAPW (<http://www.napw.com>):

The National Association of Professional Women (NAPW) is one of the most exclusive and rapidly growing associations of female executives, professionals, and entrepreneurs in the United States. We span almost every industry, including health and medicine, education, advertising and public relations, manufacturing, publishing, communications, entertainment, law, and more.
