June 12, 2009 - PRLog -- Malmö-After the grand opening of the Church of Scientology of Malmö in April the people of Malmö are looking to the top-selling book Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health for solutions. First published in May 1950, this perennial bestseller has even more relevance today than it did 59 years ago. Especially in the Malmö area.

Proud staff at the church have been introducing person after person in the greater Malmö area to Dianetics: the Modern Science of Mental Health.

The people of Malmö face enormous challenges as we all do. Whether its medical problems, depression, dreaded doctor visits, familial arguments, problems in the work place, relationship issues or a score of others, Scientology is reaching out in Sweden with solutions.

According to one recent article, unemployment in the Rosengård district of the city is 70 percent, crime affects one of every three Malmö families each year and the number of rapes has tripled over the past 20 years.

The first step in changing any situation is understanding the underlying causes of the problem. In addition to revealing why people act the way they do and how to dramatically improve the quality of life on a one-on-one basis, Dianetics also “embraces the conditions and processes of leadership and intergroup relations,” explaining how groups, cultures and even nations become irrational. It goes on to state, “There is no national problem in the world today which cannot be resolved by reason alone.”

L. Ron Hubbard wrote Dianetics so that anyone could read it and easily learn techniques to help people overcome the most unwanted conditions in their lives. In addition to making this book broadly available, the Church of Scientology of Malmö offers Dianetics Seminars courses and profession training at its new headquarters at Sockerbruksgatan 2, Arlöf, 23 235 Malmö.
