AESTHETICS ABROAD ANNOUNCES AUSTRIAN PARTNERSHIP

Cosmetic-surgery vacations in top-ranked country possible for the first time

LOS ANGELES, September 14, 2009 — Unqualified physicians. Unsanitary operating rooms. Unavailable follow-up care for a serious complication. For those considering a surgical procedure overseas, horror stories like these can quickly change an upcoming holiday to a cancelled plane ticket. Now, with the launch of Aesthetics Abroad and their exciting new partnership with Austria, patients have an industry partner they can trust to make their cosmetic-enhancement vacation safe, pleasant and worth every penny.

“I am very excited to form this partnership with Austria, a country that represents our goal of providing the highest-quality services for every aspect of a cosmetic-surgery vacation,” says Spick, CEO of Aesthetics Abroad. “We aim to provide our patients with an opportunity to receive the best health care and cosmetic enhancements, as well as relaxation and culture, by combining world-class medical care with a luxurious environment in which they can immerse themselves during their recovery process.” A medical-tourism agency, Aesthetics Abroad serves a growing market of men and women interested in cosmetic surgery abroad, arranging all trip logistics so their clients can travel worry-free to destinations all over the world. With this groundbreaking Austrian partnership, Aesthetics Abroad can offer, for the first time ever, access to surgeons practicing in one of the top health-care systems in the world.

Austria was named the world leader in medical care in Health Consumer Powerhouse's Euro Health Consumer Index 2007 and has placed in the Index's top ten for the last three years. With doctors fluent in English practicing in top-rated hospitals and dedicated to their patients' quality of life, Austria is a perfect match for Aesthetics Abroad's mission. Careful selection of service providers is key to the company's success: Aesthetics Abroad screens doctors thoroughly before welcoming them to their roster. And since affiliated surgeons are members of the European Board of Plastic Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgery (EBOPRAS) and the International Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgery (ISAPS), Aesthetics Abroad can guarantee that its clients will receive care exclusively from highly qualified international professionals.
