On Monday, June 22nd, one of the deadliest train wrecks occurred in Washington, DC, killing nine people and leaving many others injured. It was one of the worst train wrecks in the railroad's 33 year history.

Later that evening, gotügo received a call from the Washington Metropolitan Transit Authority (WMTA) requesting urgent assistance due to the horrific train wreck occurring earlier that day. Gotügo's emergency services were on the scene immediately. According to WMTA, because of gotügo's eagerness to help and capabilities to assist in such emergency situations, gotügo will remain to be the WMTA's "go to" portable restroom company.

In the event of an emergency, a natural disaster, a large fire or anything that forces people from their homes or businesses, gotügo will quickly assess the situation and provide you with a portable restroom solution that will meet your needs.
