The HTC G1 is a phone which outshines many with its classic good looks and stunning array of functionality. From its large touch screen to its fast internet connection, this phone simply oozes appeal and offers a compendium of features that delights its fortunate owners.

The phone provides a 3.2 inch large touch screen display which displays 65,000 colour variants which offers clear and crisp reproduction of images. The touch screen facility provides access to the multiple functions by simple means. The screen coupled with the useful accelerometer images, ensures images are displayed in their correct aspect and for optimum viewing preference. Handwriting recognition is also provided which offers an additional means of data entry. This method of data input is in addition to the extremely useful slide out full QWERTY keyboard, which enables speedy texting and ensures fewer errors occur when inputting text.

The phone provides a 3.15 mega pixel camera with a resolution of 2048 x 1536 pixels. This camera is sufficient to capture good quality images and reproduce them for display on the large screen, added to this the fact that the camera provides auto focus ensures images are caught in focus and with clarity. An MP3 player which plays the major audio file formats including MP3, AAC and WMA offers musical respite.

The HSDPA connection provides speeds of up to 7.2 Mbps for a fast internet connection. Wi-Fi also offers additional connectivity within publically available hot spots. At these speeds and with the large 3.2 inch display screen, web browsing is impressive and enjoyable.

This phone is one of the android style phones and as such has received its fair share of publicity. It is a combination of a PDA style with an ingenious operating system which commands respect. HTC with their complete range of mobile phones can be seen as innovative, in that they constantly look to push the boundaries of technology. This phone offers a wealth of functionality and sophistication which is rarely found in a phone. The may well be why its popularity is growing exponentially.
