An external HF RFID Reader Antenna can give a better signal range to 13.56MHz RFID reader to read tags relatively far away. DAILY RFID has recently unveiled a new high-performance 13.56MHz HF RFID Antenna DL810 to cater for the above demands.

The HF RFID Reader Antenna DL810 can be designed in different sizes and different shapes for your requirements. And it can offer up to 3W output power in its class for HF applications due to the SMA interface, thus offering long read range, while enabling system-level power reductions.

The 13.56MHz HF RFID Antenna DL810 is suitable for asset management applications in offices or commercial enterprises where streamlining is needed. In combination with a HF Reader DL810, the HF RFID Antenna gives the reader long read range up to 90cm(3 feet) for HF RFID tags, and can read over 50 tags per second.

The 13.56 MHz RFID Antenna can be used in a variety of HF applications, such as warehouse management and clothing management applications, etc. And it has been successfully integrated into a part of RFID Jewelry Kit.
