According to the IRS, a responsible person is a person or group of people who have the duty to perform and the power to direct the collecting, accounting and paying of trust funds. This person may be:

- an officer or an employee of a corporation
- a member or employee of a partnership
- a corporate director or shareholder

- a member of a board of trustees of a nonprofit organization, or
- another person with the authority and control to direct the disbursement of funds.

Once the IRS has determined the business cannot pay its past due payroll taxes (940/941 Tax), the IRS will then turn their sights on the individuals who they say are responsible for the 940/941 Payroll tax violations...LOOK OUT!

Trust Fund Recovery Penalty

IRC Section 6672(a): Any person required to collect, truthfully account for, and pay over any tax imposed by this title who willfully fails to collect such a tax (Employment Tax, Payroll Tax, 940 / 941 Tax), or truthfully account for or pay over such tax, or willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any such tax (940/941 Tax) or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable to a penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded, or not collected, or not accounted for and paid over.

If your business has employees you are required to pay Employment tax / payroll tax / 940 / 941 Tax. Depending upon the size of your payroll you may be required to make Employment tax deposits with the IRS as soon as the day after you pay your employees. If you fail to pay your Employment Tax / Payroll Tax, 940 / 941 tax on time then the IRS imposes interest and penalties. If you let things go too long the IRS penalties and interest can be larger than the amount of the original Employment tax, Payroll Tax, 940 / 941 Tax.

The IRS will file Tax Liens and the IRS will Levy your Bank account. The IRS can and will padlock your business should you continue to do nothing.

The IRS will continue (that's what the IRS does) to use Enforced Collection when it comes to unpaid Employment Tax, Payroll Tax, 940 / 941 Tax and unfilled payroll returns. Enforced Collection can include an IRS levy on the assets of the business, including the accounts receivable, equipment, automobiles and your bank account. The IRS can also padlock a business for non-payment of Employment Tax, Payroll Tax, 940 / 941 Tax. If the business is closed or files for bankruptcy protection, the IRS will look to the owner of the business for collection of the penalties, interest, taxes and trust funds. In the case of a corporation or partnership, the IRS will look to the person responsible for paying the Employment Tax, Payroll tax, 940 / 941 Tax to collect the trust funds. This is known as the Trust Fund Recovery Penalty.
