

Colette Morris Newest Team Member To Join CarbonCopyPro and Wealth Masters International

Like most working mothers, Colette Morris wanted to be able to find an opportunity that could generate a modest income to allow her to be able to work from home and spend more time with her young family.

Aug. 27, 2009 - PRLog -- Mumpreneur, Onlinepreneur, Savvy work from home chick partners up with CarbonCopyPro and Wealth Masters International.

Colette Morris is a mother of two boys, having worked in the corporate world for the first 20 years of her working life, she finally found courage and sense to leave and work for herself. Finding the right partners was not easy. There were so many opportunities out there, it was overwhelming. However, one stood out more than the rest for Colette.

CarbonCopyPRO partnered up with Wealth Masters International back in 2007 and since then, they have been informing hundreds of individuals about how to make better use of their finances, with the aim to get yourself out of debt, and investing your hard earned money for your future.

When asked why Colette partnered up with CarbonCopyPro, she was quoted as saying "the company do so much to help ordinary people create additional income and in particular especially in this day and age with the 'credit crunch' and many foreclosures, and job losses, it is more key than ever to have better control and understanding of your finances. I found the products Wealth Masters International offer are the best of the market, and if millionaires use these products, then its good enough for me and the other ordinary people like me out there."

CarbonCopyPro has been in the spotlight in the online world recently. Their turn key "business in a box" has been the talk of the online world this year. The members of CarbonCopyPRO have set a challenging goal of creating 100 millionaires by 2012. Their unique approach of providing their members with pre-designed websites, auto responders, qualifying filters, and a high quality call center has dramatically increased the general success rate. People with little or no marketing experience are getting results they never thought possible.

CarbonCopyPRO is based in New York founded by Jeff Kuberssek and Aaron Parkinson with other professional marketers getting on board such as Mike Dillard and their informational website is <http://oneyearplan.net/CMorris?t=PR3>
