Sept. 5, 2009 - PRLog -- Buttock enhancement is often accomplished primarily by buttock implants or fat transfer.

The Brazilian Butt Lift uses your body fat from areas of excess for transplantation into the buttock area for butt enhancement. Brazilian Butt Lift method results in the most natural and sensual look for the buttock area. With the Brazilian Butt Lift (fat transfer or fat injection method), you not only get a more shapely buttock, but in addition, a leaner waist and flatter belly. The Butt Lift produces the most attractive and natural profile. Butt implants are frequently recommended for individuals with very low body fat where there would insufficient fat for transplant. http://www.nycsurgical.com/brazilian_buttlift.html

Women and men who are feeling unsatisfied with the size and shape of their buttocks can attain a balanced beautiful body with an equally shapely and proportion sized backside with the Brazilian Butt Lift. Fat injections create a more attractive curvaceous derriere with less down time than butt implants. Many women often have breast augmentation and may neglect to consider overall balance of the body. A buttock that is flat, droopy or uneven can be augmented with a Butt Lift to create a more full and rounded booty enhancing overall balance.

Benefits of the Brazilian Butt Lift vs Buttock Implant

- More natural, attractive and curvaceous silhouette
- Smaller incisions
- Shorter recovery time
- Additional body sculpting/liposuction
- No chance of rejection

Weight gain or loss, aging, pregnancies, and genetics can all have a negative affect on one's rear end. With the Brazilian Butt lift, your own fat cells from unwanted areas of your (body, abdomen, hips, back or thigh) are liposuctioned and reinjected into the buttocks creating more rounded curvaceous rear end. The ideal Candidates for the Brazilian Butt lift should be healthy with sufficient amount of fat for liposuction. The greatest advantage of the Brazilian Butt Lift is that in addition to buttocks enhancement, you will also have liposuction to other area of the body, a two for one benefit.
