Saturn, one of the most powerful planets of the zodiac, is a slow mover and its slow pace has earned the name "Sanischar" for the planet. It takes 29 Yrs 6 Months to revolve around the Sun. On an average it stays in one rashi for a period of 2 Yrs 6 Months. It is right now in Leo rashi and it will move into Virgo rashi.

The date of transit of Saturn from Leo rashi to Virgo rashi differs on account of different methods of calculation. According to Nirayana or Sidereal system of calculation (Lahiri Ayanamsa) Saturn will transit on 9th September 2009. Some other calculation systems have fixed the transit on 26th September 2009.

This transit of Saturn will start Sadhe Saati period for Libra and cause an end of Sadhe Saati for Cancer rashi. The last phase of Sadhe Saati for Leo will start and the second phase of Sadhe Saati for Virgo will also begin. The rashis that will have Dhaiya (Kantaka Shani) will be Gemini and Aquarius. The Dhaiya on Taurus and Capricorn will come to an end.

Saturn is generally considered as a Pap-Graha (malefic planet) its role has been analyzed in Uttara Kalamrita. It has been treated as a karaka of ill health, obstructions, disease, enmity, sorrow, death, old age, thefts, lameness etc. But, the role of Saturn as the administrator of divine justice is forgotten by many. This Graha helps the weak and the helpless and stands for common man. Well-placed Saturn can completely change the fortunes of an individual.

The effect of transit of Saturn from Leo rashi to Virgo rashi will affect the fortunes of all rashis. But, the effect will be dependent on many factors like the lordship of Saturn in the natal horoscope, placement of Saturn in natal horoscope and the running dasa in the horoscope. These are the main governing parameters for analyzing the effect of the transit of Saturn on different rashis.

The horoscope shows the planetary promise only. Transits deliver the promises of the horoscope. Transits will not deliver any result if there are no promises in the horoscope.
