Introducing www.legacy110.org – a Premier Social Site for the Affluent which offers a top-notch user experience above all other sites on the market today.

Legacy110.org focuses on exclusivity and provides a gated community environment for affluent people who care about bettering themselves, their families, and their communities. Legacy110.org distinguishes itself from any would-be competitors by offering a quality site with a quality experience. This is accomplished by being:

Secure, Confidential, and Verifiable

Legacy110.org members are thoroughly screened to verify their legitimacy. Every person is held to the same membership standards to ensure a clean and uncompromising networking experience. Personal information is submitted securely and confidentially and never shared.

Advertising and Solicitation Free

Legacy110.org members are free to partake in the total site experience. We have worked hard to avoid placing annoying and distracting advertisements throughout the site. Our members are our focus and an irresistible experience is our goal. By full intention, advertisements will be carefully selected by the value they offer to our members and will only be located in our MarketPlace. Nowhere else on the site will there be advertisements.

We encourage growth & development by appreciating and embracing opportunities that may present themselves through networking. In other words, get to know one another instead of making bold solicitations!

Coaching, Guidance, and Expert Advice

All Legacy110.org members receive unlimited access to the coaching and guidance section. This section allows our members to receive life and business coaching advice and guidance from our team of trained and certified coaching/guidance professionals. No matter what issue life throws their way, members of Legacy110.org can rely on expert assistance with just the click of a mouse!
