

New Book Guides Arizona DUI Offenders Through The DUI Maze

“AZ DUI Handbook” Provides Money Saving Tips and Details Process for First Time Offenders

Oct. 5, 2009 - PRLog -- PHOENIX – Arizona has one of the strictest driving under the influence (DUI) penalties in the entire nation with more than 40,000 people sentenced for the crime in the state this past year alone. Now there's a new guide available entitled “The AZ DUI Handbook” to help guide people through the entire process resulting from a DUI arrest.

“We interviewed over 50 people arrested for DUI in addition to legal experts, police and counselors to provide readers insight into the entire DUI Maze,” said Spokesperson Brian Sanders. “All of the different main subjects in the maze, including Attorneys, Public Defenders, Motor Vehicle, Tent City, Local Jail and Counseling are covered in the book. The entire process is an intensely emotional, time consuming, and financially draining process that will dramatically affect one's life.”

The “AZ DUI Handbook” is not about guilty or not guilty. It simply helps offenders understand what to expect once they are arrested for a DUI. Main subjects covered in the “AZ DUI Handbook” include how to work with an attorney or public defender; coping with the infamous tent city or local jail; the steps in DUI alcohol counseling; and navigating through the Department of Motor Vehicles process.

“There are many confusing steps to take in the DUI maze and making the right decisions could save an offender thousands of dollars in this very expensive process,” Sanders said. “Many people out there are trying to take advantage of first time offenders by scaring them into spending money quickly. The key is not to panic, get information from an independent source, and then evaluate your options in a calm well informed manner.”

One of the key points in the “AZ DUI Handbook” is not to overpay for legal representation that many times does not change the overall sentence of the crime.

“Many people we interviewed paid for a DUI attorney and then got the same plea bargain they would have received by utilizing a Public Defender at a much lesser cost,” Sanders said. “In addition, some had their city and jail fines reduced when they took a more active role in their defense.”

The book also helps prepare offenders for what is considered by many the worst part of the entire experience, the time spent in the notorious “Tent City” in the Arizona desert. The Tent City experience is meant to demean, demoralize and shock DUI offenders into never repeating the crime again so anyone going there must be prepared in advance.

“Knowing what to expect at tent city is an extremely important part of the book,” Sanders said. “It could be the worst experience of your life; however ‘The AZ DUI Handbook’ will prepare you in advance to make it as comfortable as humanly possible.”

The “AZ DUI Handbook” is full of several time and money saving tips in the DUI maze, especially in dealing with the Department of Motor Vehicles. You can download the e-book immediately at <http://www.azduihandbook.com> for only $20 or order a hard copy book for $25 plus shipping.

In addition, The “AZ DUI Handbook” exclusively contains a $25 coupon from the Safe Harbor Ignition Interlock company for the first month's service.
