

Wholesale carpet Chicago - Carpeting Deals

www.CarpetMAX.info - For people looking for good, cheap, wholesale carpet deals in Chicago - this press release can point you in the right direction. We can shed $100's or more off your next carpet purchase - by following these simple steps.

Oct. 6, 2009 - PRLog -- Floor covering installations and carpet is one of the most necessary and expensive renovation work for homeowners - especially for homeowners that are living in bigger cities like Chicago, Naperville, and Schaumburg. Carpet businesses in these areas simply have more expenses and overhead costs to factor in. A local carpet business has to pass these costs and more onto its customers to ensure a profitable business. These costs can add $100s onto a bid. And if it is a new home even $1000s.

Contractors that are in the construction business and need to keep building costs low will avoid these floor covering operations. They have years of experience and have learned how to save. They have their own carpet installers and flooring experts. They become a carpet supplier themselves or deal directly with wholesale suppliers. "Do it yourself" is a contractors motto and if he cannot he contacts another contractor that specializes in floor covering installations. Time is money and so is supplies; when it comes to construction.

I, myself, have seen a lot of newly constructed condos that use the lowest grade in carpet padding and the cheapest priced carpet available. Even despite the color or texture. I have pulled up carpet to see plywood flooring not even secured down with a layer of dust from the dry wall sanding still sitting. This can possess health hazards especially for kids that jump around and can be a dusting nightmare. These are important factors that can lower the cost of a condo or hurt a sale all together.

Below is a step by step process to cut back on unnecessary costs. Check out <http://carpetmax.info> to help start your search for affordable floor coverings.

Step 1 - Find how much the carpet will cost before installation. Including the cost of additional expenses (it is worth to spend extra for better padding).

Buying wholesale allows people to save money because the wholesale business sells a larger quantity and is able to reduce profit margins accordingly. This is one trick to cut costs.

Carpet remnants are also a popular cost-saving solution - that allows people to save more money. Remnants can make replacing carpet in one room very affordable.

Carpet tiles provide longevity which can save money over time.

Do research online. People can find great carpet companies online that can save you money. Do the homework.

NOTE: If you do decide to buy wholesale and carpet is shipped to your residence - the shipping company is not responsible after they ship the carpet. It is important to have people available to put the carpet in proper storage or carry it to where ever it needs to be. Shipping companies will simply let the carpet sit in your drive way and that is as far as their liability goes.

Step 2 - Find a carpet installer (subcontractor)

This can save considerable amounts of money and is necessary if you decided to shop online for a wholesale price. Finding an installer outside of the floor covering business will save a lot of money. Again by shopping around people will be astounded with how much they can save. Be sure you are working with a person that knows what they are doing you can extend the life of the carpet by years. Usually a good carpet installer will have the necessary equipment to do correct seams and the proper stretching techniques, which prevents noticeable stretch marks and torn seams.

Its a fact of life that people will spend more money when they are not knowledgeable enough about a subject. Taking these steps might not be the normal process, but it will cut costs and get you nice looking and comfortable carpet.
