Tourists acknowledge a new and improved US reputation as Obama betters international relations

Hamburg, 09.10.2009. The US President, Barack Obama was surprisingly for everyone awarded today the 2009 Nobel peace prize. According to the recent prognosis Obama's Presidency had a great impact on the rising popularity of the United States among many tourists worldwide. President Obama has been traveling the world promoting international cooperation and improving the US image around the globe.

Many travellers from all over Europe wish to now discover how America is changing under the new administration of their first Afro-American president.

Many of them also decide to simply hire a car while travelling through this enormous land. Due to the great road network America is indeed an extremely easy country to travel with your car hire. Thus, increasing popularity of the US as an interesting country to visit also resulted in a growing demand for car hire in the United States what has been observed in the past months by international car hire broker CarDelMar. People want to stay mobile, independent and individually explore the best sights and cities while travelling with their car hire through US.

To pay tribute to The American President's achievement in winning The Nobel Peace Prize, international car hire broker CarDelMar is running a discount on all car hire. Those who book a car starting before November 2009 will enjoy 10% discount to celebrate President Obama's great distinction.

Those who want to receive the reduced prices in honor of President Obama need to simply enter the promotion code "OBAMA" in the promotion code field through www.cardelmar.co.uk The booking process works as normal and the prices will be automatically discounted 10%.

This offer is valid only for all destinations in the US, all vehicle categories and for bookings made before November 9th 2009.

CarDelMar has been offering its customers cheap car hire since March, 2005. With service in over 60 countries and 5000 travel destinations worldwide, CarDelMar is partnered with the most trusted international rental car companies such as Avis, Budget, Europcar and many more.
