Central Data Storage located in Lincoln, Nebraska launched its specialized service offering a superior online backup tool dedicated to serving the needs of dentists, medical practitioners and chiropractors.

Last year alone 320 million patient records were lost!

Central Data Storage located in Lincoln, Nebraska is a specialized company offering a superior online backup tool dedicated to serving the needs of dentists, medical practitioners and chiropractors. The company launched at the request of an affiliated company's (Naomi-DR provides digital sensors) clients who were looking for a secure offsite backup and quick restore supplier for their medical offices. Moreover, Physicians inquired about digital backup capabilities to remove themselves from the everyday worry and time consuming process of securing their most critical patient data. With this as its key driving force Central Data Storage was born. The prime focus of Central Data Storage is providing a one stop solution for medical practices to stay compliant with current HIPAA law which requires a medical office to have an established set of procedures and policies in place for data backup and recovery to protect the privacy of patients. With two geographically separate, highly secure data centers protecting the storage needs of a medical practice coupled with industry "best in class" recovery speed many are choosing Central Data Storage for its affordability, in-house support team and keen focus on restoring critical data fast.

With medical practices saving more and more patient data in digital format it becomes necessary to have a data back-up plan in place as system failure, lost tapes/disks and potential theft or disaster could destroy your business. We take your data storage seriously so you can run your practice and take care of your most important asset-patients.

Central Data Storage has an array of excellent features including continuous data protection, unlimited versioning of files, global roaming access, the highest grade encryption, and daily emails to let you know that data was properly backed up to Central Data Storage duplicated servers hundreds of miles apart.

With 3X Fast recovery in the event your patient data is lost, stolen or corrupted your archived patient information is accessible when you need it.

See the CDS website for details and then give us a call for more information as our client relationship team and technical engineers are available to answer your questions.
