

Retire in Philippines - Plan carefully and live like a king forever

By Yats Leisure

Dated: Oct 15, 2009

Yats Leisure sets up special team to help foreigners plan their retirement in Philippines carefully and avoid the usual pitfall that can turn a nice dream into a never-ending nightmare.

Yats Leisure recommends Clark Philippines as primary destination for retirement in Philippines. Cost is low and the quality of living is high. Some may also establish a small business also.

A clean, safe and laid-back lifestyle is offered by Yats Clearwater Resort & Country Club for people to retire in Philippines. www.YatsLeisure.com

Clark Freeport is for sure the best proposition for retirement in the Philippines especially for those who still want to be useful and productive. The three critical factors of cost, safety and cleanliness are all present. However it pays to plan this out properly to avoid any unpleasant surprises down the road. Remember that Philippines is still a 3rd world country and that means one has to expect 3rd world risks to come with the package.

Numerous requests have been received by Yats Clearwater Resort and Country Club to accommodate people from all over the world planning to retire in the Philippines. To properly handle these requests, Yats Leisure established a special group of trained staff experienced with processing residence visas, setting up homes and even small businesses in Clark Philippines and to give consultation on the do's-and-don'ts of living and working in the Philippines.

For your copy of do's-and-don'ts of retirement in the Philippines, write Yats Leisure at Retire@Yats-International.com. For more information about Clark Philippines, visit www.ClarkPhilippines.com.

Living in Clark Philippines

The best way is to acquire a long-term lease of 30-40 years inside Clark Freeport which has the lowest crime rate in the country. Yats Leisure has house-and-lot projects that cost from US$190,000 upwards.

The Philippines is the best proposition for a luxurious retirement lifestyle in Asia. However this is a 3rd world country and that means all foreigners are exposed to 3rd-world risks and hazards. Yats Leisure's special team is there to even the odds and make this a haven for foreigners who have earned the right to retire and live like a King forever in Clark Philippines.
