

A Perfect Holiday Plan To China With Cheapest Flights

By N Pavon

Dated: Nov 03, 2009

China is a perfect place for holidays in budget and flights that are the cheapest...

China' a perfect destination for cheapest flights & holidays

China, officially known as the People's Republic of China. It is a vast country in Eastern Asia with the world's largest population. It is often termed as the "land of rising sun". China is an amazing country for perfect holidays ranging from snow Cap Mountains to deserts and from deserts to the peak of technology. The only last ingredient required by any country to make the best and perfect holidays for interest of all young and old is to have wonder of the world, in case of China it has a wonder so wonderful that its not just a thing of interest for Archeologist or architects but also world; best preserved and most well kept and maintained wonder "The great wall of China". The creation of this Great Wall of China speaks of the mighty inheritance of hard work and intelligence that the nations owns from its for fathers. Another great cenic beauty and spectacular sight that has become the second identity or China around the world is its possession of the "Forbidden Palace". This gift of its supreme reign of kingship, was only a few decades back a hidden and isolated master piece of Chinese architect. The "Forbidden Palace" or "Forbidden City" was once a palace that common man would only dream to step in, But today the door are open for every one to see and marvel at the beauty of this creation.

China is a huge country with endless travel opportunities. During holidays, however, millions of migrant workers return home from neighboring courtiers. Travelers may want to seriously consider scheduling to avoid the major holidays. Early reservation for flight in this case is ideal. . Simple, the sooner the better. It not only saves you from all the worries of last minute reservation but also you can have your hands on cheap promotional airfares with outstanding direct and indirect flights from any where in London. Cheap flights to China are available from any where in UK including Heathrow, Gatwick or Manchester for Shanghai, Beijing or Shenzhen (the port city). These flights if booked well in time can save you at least up to 200 GBP on each reservation. Usually travel Agencies have cheaper fares in comparison to airlines, as these agencies get discounts from airlines and sell fares on promotional bases. You may bargain the price in many cases or use easy modes of payments as installments or deposits. For more details please visit: <http://www.travelhouseuk.co.uk/flights/asia/china.htm>

China has many large and famous cities. Below is a list of the nine most important to travelers in mainland China.

Beijing – the former Peking, is the capital, cultural center, and host of the 2008 Olympics

Guangzhou - one of most prosperous and liberal cities in the south, near Hong Kong

Guilin - popular destination for both Chinese and foreign tourists with sensational lush green mountain and scenic river scenery

Hangzhou - famously beautiful city and major center for the silk industry

Kunming - capital of Yunnan and gateway to a rainbow of ethnic minority areas

Nanjing- a renowned historical and cultural city with many historic sites

Shanghai - famous for its riverside cityscape, China's largest city is a major commercial center with many shopping opportunities

Suzhou - "Venice of the East," an ancient city famous for canals and gardens

Xi'an - the oldest city and ancient capital of China, home to ten dynasties including the Han and the Tang, terminus of the ancient Silk Road, and home of the terracotta warriors

Wuhan – stop in Wuhan for shopping and food

Yeshang – links to the three gorges and the biggest dam in the world

Shenzhen – a commercial city known for its harbor

China has dozens of UNESCO World Heritage sites. Chinese food and night life needs no introduction. The interesting sites of grilled frogs, cockroaches and scorpions are common in food streets. For vegetarians, the way Chinese cook vegetables, is the most amazing as they believe in not spoiling the color or taste nature gave to each fruit and vegetable. Sea food is also largely available and the most amazing dish is Squirrel fish. Other dishes include lots of shrimps, prawns, chickens and ducks. MacDonald, KFC, Star Bucks and other famous chains are available at the airports and also in major big cities. Nights life is also very exciting and happening. The entry to most common club “KTV” is very cheap and these clubs are open almost in every big market and in street corners. Chinese rock and pop music is so amazing that many songs hit the charts round the world. Shopping from malls is not more expensive than Shopping from street sides. The prices should be bargained in all cases. Chinese garments, dresses, shoes and hand bags are very cheap in comparison to other countries of its size and modernity. When you are China, it is hard to stop shopping and even harder to stop eating!!! Must not forget to try the Chinese massage centres, saloons, hair cuts, hair highlights / colors, spa, foot massage and the recent chocolate (shocolate) spa for the 21st century fashion, style and comfort.

Category	Travel
Tags	Cheap, flights, holidays, to, china, from, UK
Email	Click to email author
Phone	+44 207 993 8012
Fax	+44 0207 900 6369
Country	United Kingdom