WE DONATE YOUR OLD BLINDS @ RECYCLE CENTER**

You might not know this, but your old blinds are causing your home to lose the precious heating and cooling you pay for all year 'round. With no substantial barrier between your home and your windows, inside air escapes through tiny crack in walls and windows. This is called Detrimental Heat Loss. In the summer months, your windows are sun rays' one-way street into your home. Not to worry! WESELLBLINDS.com We will also give you $5 For Every PAPER SHADE if you dont have old blinds,we RECYCLE the Paper Shades.

Hunter Douglas Launches Advanced Websites for 2500 Alliance Dealers in the U.S.

SAUSALITO, CA, Dec 01, 2009 (MARKETWIRE via COMTEX) -- Hunter Douglas, the premier manufacturer of custom window coverings worldwide, has partnered with ChannelNet (www.channelnet.com), the leading provider of multichannel solutions, to launch an advanced dealer website program for their network of Alliance Dealers across the U.S. There are over 1500 Gallery and Showcase Priority dealers that carry Hunter Douglas products. Each dealer is able to customize and personalize his/her website to reflect the unique attributes of their individual showroom and service offerings."Building on the previous success of our dealer website program our new more advanced solution allows our dealers to showcase and differentiate their business online," said Jeff Janke, Vice President, Retail Alliance Programs, Hunter Douglas. "By providing highly customizable Websites, Internet shoppers know what to expect from their dealer. Each site contains all the information the consumer needs to arrange an appointment for an in-store or in home consultation with one of our dealers that best meets their needs.

This ultimately helps dealers grow their business and makes it easier for consumers to purchase the Hunter Douglas brand." ChannelNet began its partnership with Hunter Douglas in 2003 by providing a network of Websites for Hunter Douglas Gallery dealers.

As the Web has evolved so has ChannelNet's relationship with Hunter Douglas, which now includes Hunter Douglas operations in Europe, Australia, Canada and Asia. "We're pleased that our relationship with Hunter Douglas continues to expand," said ChannelNet CEO and founder, Paula Tompkins. "Hunter Douglas is at the fore front of providing multichannel online to off line solutions to power their businesses globally. They clearly understand that the Internet has dramatically changed the way consumers research and purchase home improvement products and services in a wired world." To gain insight into the desired features and functions for the new Websites Hunter Douglas and ChannelNet conducted focus groups with dealers. The new sites are now equipped with up to several flexible looks and feels, video throughout the site, large high quality imagery, image libraries, contextual promotions, newsletter sign ups, FAQs, customer testimonials, Google mapping with driving directions and multiple prominent calls to action all designed to drive qualified leads to dealers. Further, each dealer can enter the products and services he/she sells into a product database. All sites are optimized for search engines and leverage Google analytics to track which marketing activities are generating the most traffic to the site.
