

Your Ideal Outdoor Kitchen in 8 Steps

Summer is the time to spend outdoors enjoying Mother Nature and making the most of these long days and balmy evenings. An outdoor kitchen will take your alfresco dining experiences to a whole new level.

Jan. 11, 2010 - PRLog -- An outdoor kitchen is the newest “must have” in home design and with summer here now is the perfect time to get one at your home. Take full advantage of your outdoor area and install an outdoor kitchen. Summer is the time to spend outdoors enjoying Mother Nature and making the most of these long days and balmy evenings. An outdoor kitchen will take your alfresco dining experiences to a whole new level.

Install an outdoor kitchen to your specifications so that you get exactly what you want. At Lifestyle BBQs they provide an Australian Made lifestyle modular outdoor kitchen range where you design your own outdoor kitchen by making a range of selections.

1. Select your barbeque module – 3, 4, or 5 burner?
2. Fuel Connection – LPG Cylinder, LPG bayonet, Natural Gas Bayonet or charcoal?
3. Pick your stainless plate and grill combination
4. Lift away cover or roasting hood with/without ceramic glass viewing?
5. Trolley and Cabinet Kit under barbeque?
6. Specify cabinets
7. Specify benchtops
8. Pick additional extras – side sink, separate sink, draws, fridge?

In eight easy steps you can create your ideal outdoor kitchen.

Not only will an outdoor kitchen enable you and your family and friends to enjoy your very own great outdoors it will also add value to your property. So not only is an outdoor kitchen an investment in your relaxation time but also an investment in your home.

Also, each Lifestyle Modular Outdoor Kitchen comes with a 25 year warranty which means 25 years of outdoor entertainment and enjoyment, 25 years of outdoor kitchen eating with your family and friends, 25 years of added value to your home and life.

An outdoor kitchen will also save you money as you will choose to stay home and enjoy your investment instead of going out. In these economic times people are more cautious with their spending and choosing to stay home and make purchase for the purpose of home entertainment. The outdoor kitchen does just that. Enjoy your garden, your pool and the environment and start planning your outdoor kitchen today.
