

Bronx DWI DUI Defense Lawyer Has Client's Second DWI Case Dismissed

By LAW Office of Michael S. Discioarro

Dated: Feb 20, 2010

Brooklyn DWI DUI Lawyer Michael S. Discioarro successfully had client's second DWI case dismissed.

In People v. B.C., the client faced her second DWI conviction in two years. Mr. Discioarro's office successfully argued that the state violated B.C.'s constitutional rights and had the case dismissed. "We are very happy with the outcome. When the state violates a citizens constitutional rights, the case should be dismissed." He said.

B.C. was stopped for a red light violation and the arresting officer demanded that she take a breathalyzer with no probable cause. B.C. declined. Mr. Discioarro was also able to defend the client's driver's licence, which DMV did not suspend. The prosecutor in the case violated the client's rights by not turning over discovery and failing to adhere to the NY criminal procedure rules. "This is not the way to prosecute a case." He said. Mr. Discioarro further went on to say that often because defendants don't have the proper representation, the prosecution is not called to task for violating constitutional rights.
