May 19, 2010 - PRLog -- Since the dawn of automobile loans and car title loans, providers have been looking for ways to squeeze every penny out of the borrower in an attempt to gain their vehicle by the end of the agreement. There are many tricks of the trade that fool borrowers into taking a loan they either have no chance of paying back, or have major payment penalties for paying off the loan early. Title Loans San Diego is a straightforward provider who is not afraid to spell out all of the terms in their loans. They have no hidden fees or payments that overcharge or penalize their customers.

Unlike numerous loan providers in California, Title Loans San Diego does not charge their customers penalties if they decide to pay off the loan early. Many other providers sneak this charge into the fine print and charge their borrowers outrageous fees if they pay the loan off before the allotted time. Most often these pre-payment penalties are worth the remainder of the interest the borrower would have to pay if they continued with their monthly payments.

To make matters worse, these same providers have interest only payments in which the monthly payments only account for the interest for the month. This type of loan may seem like the payments are cheap, but in actuality they enforce a large balloon payment of the entire principal that is due on the last payment date, and none of the payments went against the original principal. On the contrary, Title Loans San Diego has amortized loans, which instead of only charging interest for the payments, they in fact have a portion of the payment go against the principal as well as for the interest for the given month. This allows the borrower to pay more money towards the principal of the loan to have the ability to pay off the loan early.

Title Loans San Diego offers a secure loan with easy payments and no penalty charges for paying of the loan on time. It's about time a trustworthy provider is getting a little recognition. Their loans are very easy to receive and you can have the cash you need in less than twenty-four hours. The first step is to apply for the loan online by completing the free application.
