Most people will go for some kind of earthy or neutral color for their carpets, so that it can go with any kind of room design. However, you can spice things up by choosing brighter colors or more varied patterns. It all depends on the design and what you're looking for. Shopping online for color schemes for your carpet can be easy, take sample wall coverings and paint colors that you plan to use on your home. This helps to see what carpets seem to look good with the other colors you've chosen for your home. If you see a carpet color you like, take a sample swatch of it to your house and see how it looks under natural and artificial lighting. Think about how the carpet color affects the overall lighting of the room. Does it darken it, or does it brighten it?
