

Kids Health Products on Offer by Online Supplier with More than 20 Years of Experience

Kids health products have never been easier to find thanks to an online supplier and retailer who can provide you with those hard to find items that can make a difference to you children's health.

July 17, 2010 - PRLog -- Special Health Store offer nutrition and supplements for all kinds of special health needs, in particular the kind of products which may benefit your kids health.

Starting out as ABP Limited, a world renowned supplier of health and nutrition products for more than 20 years, ABP specialised in medical diagnostic products and services to physicians and hospitals. Their most established product worldwide is RISTOCETIN which is used in the diagnosis of von Willebrand's disease.

Special Health Store's best selling product is currently their Nutrivene-D range, the nutritional supplement developed in the USA for individuals with Trisomy 21: Down's syndrome. Nutrivene products contain only the highest quality nutrients and are free from artificial colours, sweeteners and preservatives making them fit well with your kids health.

The great success of Nutrivene products meant that ABP decided to create a new and separate online store through their own dedicated website <http://www.SpecialHealthStore.co.uk>

Although they are not medical experts the Special Health Store team knows that the most important thing to you is your kids health. That's why they have such an extensive range of often hard to find products that are not available on the high street. They can cater for the most individual needs and cater for your kids health and find the finest nutritional products for Trisomy 21: Down's syndrome Autism, other conditions and genetic disorders.
