

Career Systems International Appoints Lynn M. Cowart to Vice President of Quality Delivery

Talented Consultant and Facilitator Brings Extensive Management Experience

LOS ANGELES - Jan. 27, 2015 - PRLog -- Career Systems International (CSI), the employee engagement and career development company founded by Dr. Beverly Kaye, announced today that it has promoted Lynn M. Cowart to Vice President of Quality Delivery.

Cowart, who had been a Senior Consultant for Career Systems International, will be responsible for the quality delivery and implementation of CSI's learning solutions which includes facilitation, coaching and consulting. She provides expertise in the areas of executive coaching, retention, organizational, management and career development and will play a strategic role in the development and certification of CSI's global team of facilitators and trainers. Ms. Cowart will be replacing Rosalind Sago who is leaving the organization to further pursue opportunities in the field of education.

"Over the years, Lynn has developed strong relationships with our clients and has proven to be a highly skilled facilitator and strategic partner. Her knowledge and experience with our solutions is extensive. We're pleased that she will be responsible for the delivery of our solutions," said C. Patrick Smith, Chief Executive Officer of Career Systems International.

"For the past nine years I have been a senior consultant and facilitator for CSI delivering their solutions with Fortune 1000 companies. I've seen first-hand the impact these solutions have on employees and organizations' bottom line," said Lynn Cowart. She continues, "What excites me most about this new position is that I'll be able to take the work that I love to do to a strategic level and work more closely with our talented facilitators and trainers."

Ms. Cowart holds a Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Communication from the State University of New York at Buffalo, and a Masters of Business Administration in Finance/Human Resource Management from the University of Connecticut.
