Kirk Curnutt, professor of literature at Troy University, Montgomery, has been chosen for inclusion in the 2008-2009 Princeton Premier Registry.

Aug. 11, 2008 - PRLog -- Kirk Curnutt received his undergraduate degrees in English and journalism from the University of Missouri in 1987 and a Ph.D. in American literature from Louisiana State University in 1993. He is presently a professor of literature at Troy University, Montgomery, Alabama, where he teaches 19th and 20th-century American literature. Kirk is also the chair of the English department for the university and in this capacity, he is responsible for the supervision of faculty, which consists of six full time and fifty adjunct professors, and heading the committee for tenure. Kirk maintains affiliations with several esteemed organizations such as the Ernest Hemingway Society, the F. Scott Fitzgerald Society, the Modern Language Association, Phi Beta Kappa and the Society for the Study of Narrative Literature. He is also a member of the Troy State University Chancellor's fellowship program and recipient of the TSUM President's Excellence Award. Kirk is the author of Baby, Let's Make A Baby, published by River City Publishing in 2003. Away from campus, Kirk spends most of his free time writing, volunteering as a church youth counselor, serving as a board member at the Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald Museum and with his band, the Shouting Stones.

In recognition of an exemplary career as a professor of literature at Troy University, Montgomery, Kirk Curnutt is being included in the 2008/2009 Princeton Premier Registry alongside the most accomplished business leaders and professionals of every industry from around the globe.
