

GL Floor Finishing Company Select PHPR Ltd

A GL Floor is an additional selling point, coming with free follow –up inspection visits plus ongoing maintenance contracts to keep their floor in top condition.

Dec. 5, 2008 - PRLog -- Edinburgh, UK -- GL Floors, Scotland's leading wood flooring specialist has selected PHPR Ltd to handle their PR with a brief to boost their profile in the trade, design and consumer media, on and offline. PHPR handles on and offline PR for a range of clients on both sides of the border and is unusual in having a qualified interior designer on its team to ensure that clients' reception areas match expectations when the media profile is raised.

PHPR CEO, Penny Haywood says, "GL Floors is a PR dream client, with a 40-year track record of excellence, including Scotland's only certified flooring training academy to continue their craftsmanship tradition. Their work includes precision custom-designed inlaid floors for commercial clients, like Gleneagles Hotel, through to specialist overnight installations by their commercial 'hit-squad' for retailers such as Jenners and Harvey Nicholson. They also have the certified skills to undertake historic flooring restoration and repair and have worked on a range of castles plus the recently re-furbished Edinburgh City Council's main meeting chamber.

"Not surprisingly, they are the appointed Scottish distributor for most of the world's top flooring manufacturers and their advice, aftercare and maintenance programmes are second to none. That's backed up by the testimonials they receive, but I was particularly impressed by the testimonials they get after small domestic jobs: almost all mention the firm's courteous and responsive workmen."

Martin Smith, GL Flooring's MD says, "I've seen the effect PR has when I worked with Junckers and I was determined to introduce that at GL Floors. We chose PHPR because Penny consistently demonstrated an in-depth understanding of our business thanks to her past work with Historic Scotland and her diploma from the Institute of Interior Design, and her association with a Forestry Stewardship Council specialist. She has an innovative approach to media relations that matched our own approach to business."
