

Restored 1944 Dairy Barn Converted to Wedding and Events Venue

Pine River Ranch located in Leavenworth WA has announced the completed renovation of their 1944 Dairy Barn, which now serves as a wedding and events venue.

May 29, 2009 - PRLog -- Leavenworth, WA--Couples who are tying the knot looking for a rustic barn wedding now have a new location to visit. The historic Dairy Barn, built in 1944 located in Leavenworth, WA has been restored in all its rustic glory to hold events such as weddings, family reunions or business conventions.

For years the dairy barn has been neglected until Pine River Ranch owner Tim Gellatly made it his mission to restore the barn. "It is so beautiful, and I thought with a lot of hard work and a little paint I could turn this into a beautiful wedding venue," Tim states. "I have the amazing outdoor scenery already covered, and the space the barn offered was so large it just made sense." Pine River Ranch added new hardwood flooring throughout, built new bride and groom dressing rooms, added handicap accesses along with a new large deck, among other renovations.

Searching for the perfect wedding location can be a daunting task, especially if your heart is set on an outdoor wedding or even more so a barn wedding. "The response to the renovation has been great; couples instantly fall in love with the rustic feel and book their wedding on the spot. We can really dress up the barn, or dress it down for any couples liking." Tim states. "We have had everything from hay bales and square dancing to ice sculptors and limo rides!"

The Dairy Barn was originally built in 1944 by the Mottler family and it was an automated barn, using milking machines instead of people. Most of the milk was delivered to local logging camps so logging crews could have fresh milk.

The renovated barn sits on 22 acres owned by Pine River Ranch which has been converted into a Bed and Breakfast. The land is still home to a corral, covered wagon and the Nason creek, but now holds weddings and events instead of milking machines and cows.
