

Pure Med Spa offers New Velashape treatment for cellulite to clinics in Toronto

Pure Med Spa - The number one Med Spa in North America offers a brand new treatment for cellulite to customers in Canada. Made popular by Hollywood stars, the Velashape treatment is now being offered through clinics in the Toronto area.

Dec. 16, 2009 - PRLog -- The latest celebrity treatment that fights signs of aging by eliminating body cellulite, one of the primary causes of dimpled and sagging skin, is now being offered to Pure Med Spa customers in the Greater Toronto Area. The Velashape treatment is the premier non-surgical and FDA approved medical procedure for the body reshaping market, and has become especially popular amongst American consumers. Velashape, which has previously been adopted by many top Hollywood celebrities and models as a primary solution to cellulite body shaping, is now available to Canadian customers looking to achieve fast results in a safe and proven environment.

The success of Velashape within the United States reflects the proven safety and comfort of treatment, and many customers claim the procedure feels “like a warm deep tissue massage”. The procedure is engineered to accommodate the different sensitivity levels and skin tones of all individuals within society, and through the performance of clinical testing, the FDA has found that there are no short or long term complications associated with it. Since all people within society are is suitable for Velashape treatments, it is expected that it will spread throughout the Canadian Market and internationally at a rapid rate.

Recently, the Hollywood news media show The Insider did an investigative piece on how the Velashape procedure effectively treated the cellulite concerns of a prominent actress and model: Kim Kardashian.

Kim’s professional career includes acting appearances on many popular television shows (Dancing with the Stars, How I Met Your Mother), movies (Disaster Movie), as well as modeling in top fashion lifestyle magazines (Maxim, Star, FHM, Playboy). Within Hollywood, actresses and models like Kim Kardashian need to take exceptional care of their bodies, and exercise significant judgment when undertaking treatments to further improve their physique. Kim Kardashian, and many other top stars, have thus chosen the Velashape procedure to safely and effectively address their concerns in a controlled environment.
