

Chicago's Walk In Tub Showroom

It is essential that you see a walk in tub before you buy one. That's why Chicago Walk-in Tubs has a showroom with a selection of walk-in tubs on display. We are an authorized dealer for three of the leading manufacturers of walk in bathtubs.

June 8, 2010 - PRLog -- Buying a walk-in tub is not easy. Every model of walk in tub is different. They come in different sizes, with different seat heights, different door widths, different faucet sets, and different optional features. There are also different levels of quality. That's why you must see for yourself before you buy. In our showroom, you can get into and out of four walk in tubs and find which meets your needs. Michael Arsers, the manager of Chicago Walk-in Tubs relates his experience with customers, "We have had people come into the store and try a particular tub only to find that it was difficult for them to maneuver in and out of the tub. They then tried another tub and found it much easier. How could they have tried out a tub on the internet or talking with an in-home salesman? I can't imagine how people buy these tubs without seeing them in person."

A walk in tub can be a very great help to many seniors or people with mobility challenges. The bathroom is the most dangerous room in the house. Many falls occur there. Climbing into or out of a traditional bathtub is a risky business. With a walk in tub, you step in and sit down on the built-in seat. "Taking a bath should be relaxing, not a source of worry. With our tubs you can bathe in safety and comfort," Arsers further relates. "Add the hydrotherapy and you have yourself a personal spa." Hydrotherapy may relieve the aching and stiffness caused by arthritis and a variety of muscular and circulatory problems. "We have tubs with air jets, water jets, or a combination of both."

Safety is the chief concern. Our tubs come with built-in grab bars, anti-slip surfaces on the floor and seat, and a low threshold to step over. We also have an optional anti-slip step for those who need it.

Chicago Walk-in Tubs offers professional installation of your new walk in tub. We remove the existing tub, install the walk in tub, and make sure that your bathroom is kept the way you want it. Our installers can also put up additional grab bars, add a high-rise toilet, or perform any other modifications that will make your bathroom more accessible. Chicago Walk-in Tubs can also do a complete bathroom remodel if that is what you desire. Our installation crew is licensed, bonded, insured, and all work is guaranteed.

If you are located in Northern Illinois, then there is no reason to buy a walk in bathtub without knowing exactly what you're getting. Visit us in our showroom and we will share our expertise with you. We will make sure that you get the right walk in tub and that it will be installed properly. Arsers adds, "We have the highest quality walk in tubs on the market at an affordable price."
